Group 09 // Chorlton's Agrimmunity

Our strategy is to improve attractiveness and adaptability focusing on anchor points and public accessibility, which will increase people flow on the high street. Each junction proposes multi-functional recreational spaces on the edge of the neighbourhood which entice a mixed demographic to explore and enjoy Chorlton.

The redesigned tram station car park allows for a range of activities including Chorlton's Farmers Markets and exhibition spaces for the Arts Festival. The other anchor offers landscaping, integrating people from bus stop to the market through local agricultural facilities such as guerrilla gardens and a playscape. This offers a sequence of spaces through the high street from the surrounding neighbourhoods.
